When this family decided to create their dream home, they went in with full confidence. Having come from Johannesburg, when they saw this estate, they fell in love. “We designed the house with the company that had done our previous two builds, so we trusted him to create our dream house,” says the owner. The property is made up of a sizable master suite with a full living area. One bedroom has a loft for their 15-year-old son. There is a guest room as well as a flatlet built on specifically for their older son for when he was studying at university. All bedrooms have en suite bathrooms. A proud feature are the garages. “The property has seven garages. My husband is a historic car collector,” the owner says. This property is certainly not short of space, with a size of about 2 000m². The family came from another golf estate in Johannesburg so moving here “was a no brainer”, says the owner. “I’m a nature lover and our entire family play golf. This estate has the best of both worlds surrounded by mountains, as well as being close to Stellenbosch >
